

Adding Project Environment Variable: Windows

The steps below outline how to add an environment variable for windows

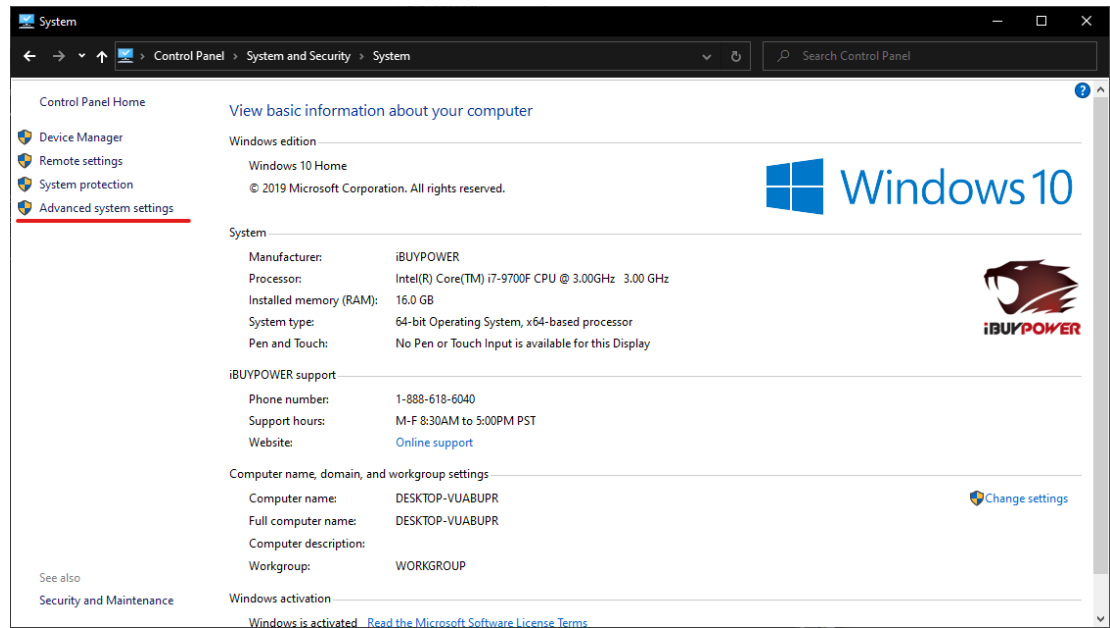

1. Open the Control Panel
2. Go to “System and Security”

- a.
3. Go to “System”

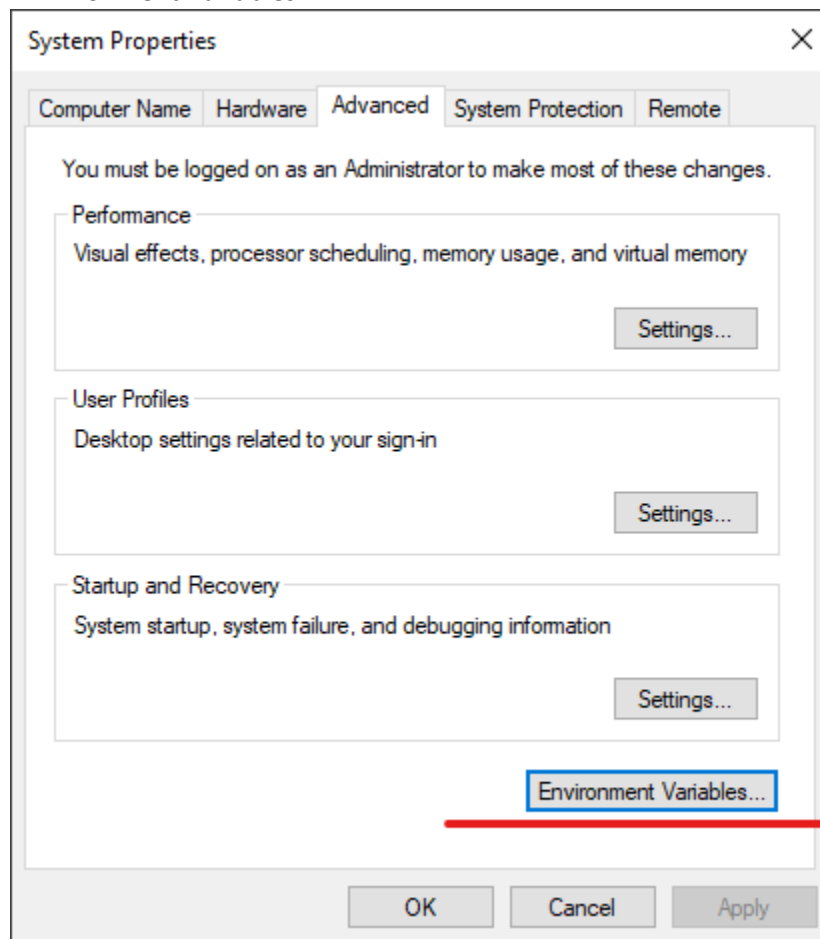

- a.
4. Go to “Advanced system settings”

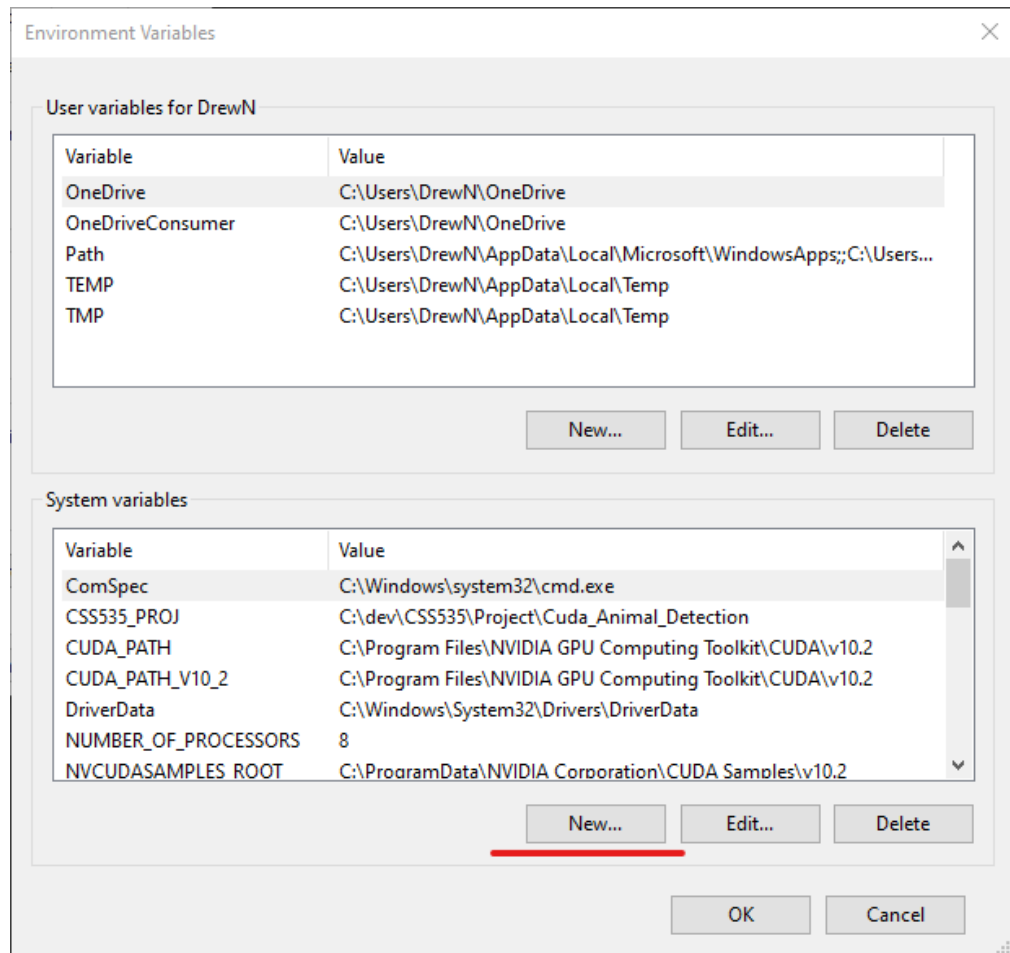

a.

5. Click on "Environment Variables"

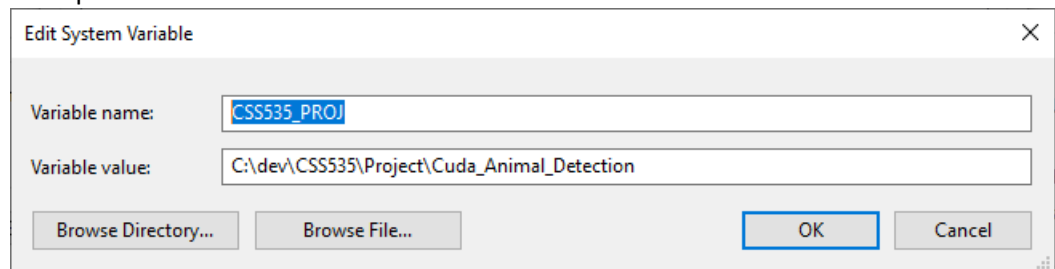

a.

6. Click on the "New..." button to add a system variable

- a.
7. Add a variable with the name of "CSS535_PROJ" and a value pointing to the root of our team's source directory
 - a. Example:

Adding Environment Variable: Linux

1. Open a terminal
2. Use the following command
 - a. `export CSS535_PROJ=>>PATH_TO_ROOT_OF_PROJECT_SRC<<`
 - b. Example: `export CSS535_PROJ=/dev/CSS535/project/Cuda_Animal_Detection`